LANCE MILLER AND BILL MILLER III

A TREASURE HUNTER'S DELIGHT

Welcome to Carlisle and our flagship event, Fall Carlisle. We are celebrating 40 years since the first event called Post War '74. If this is your first visit, we are excited to have you. For those of you returning to the grounds, welcome back. Either way, we are happy you are here and hope you enjoy your visit. If you need help or have questions, please visit Guest Services building located just steps west of the grandstand.

As you walk the grounds, you'll learn a few things. First, there is a lot of land to travel. Secondly, can you believe the size of our collector car swap meet, car corral and auction? If you are looking for merchandise, memorabilia, restoration items or aftermarket upgrades, you can undoubtedly find it here. If you're more interested in collector cars available for purchase, check out the car corral or our auction, presented by Auctions America. There are thousands for sale within the corral and hundreds more as part of the auction. We have onsite financing, taxes and tag service too. Carlisle really is a one-stop shop.

Finally, while this is our last Pennsylvania-based event in 2013, it's not our final show. In just over one month, our staff travels to Zephyrhills, Florida (north of Tampa) to host Zephyrhills Fall AutoFest (November 14-17), a swap meet, car coral and two-day auto auction. New for our Florida-based events is something called Free Unless Sold. This simply means that if a car doesn't sell during the auction, all seller's fees are refunded. This feature will also be showcased in 2014 as part of Spring Carlisle and all Carlisle-backed auctions going forward.

In all, your support has helped bring us to this point as a company. To that, we ask that you take a few moments to fill out our event survey online at CarlisleEvents.com or visit Guest Services for a hard copy. Enjoy the 40th edition of Fall Carlisle!

— Lance and Bill III

Looking for a new windshield for your classic Jeep? Maybe you're in the market for an aftermarket Holley carburetor for your GTO. How about a set of Torq Thrust wheels to fit a '68 Barracuda?

If you're hunting for any of those parts, or parts like them, you've come to the right place. Fall Carlisle's swap meet just happens to be one of the largest events of its kind in the world. Think 150 acres of cars and parts, over 8,000 vendor spaces, and thousands of buyers, each hunting for that one thing they know they need for their winter project.

I love swap meets. Like many of the buyers here this weekend, I always come prepared with a short list of stuff I need for my cars, and I almost always forget about that list. If you've ever spent much time hunting for parts at a swap meet, I'm sure you've done the same thing.

Maybe you run across a set of cheap rear-window trim that's in better shape than what you already have, or maybe you find a set of drag radials that are next to new and priced way under what you'd pay from a catalog. Were you looking for those things? No. Could you use them? Yes!

This kind of stuff happens all the time at places like Fall Carlisle, and in addition to the swap meet, the event also features a 2,000-vehicle car corral with vehicles for sale, as well as a collector-car auction, hosted by Auctions America. American Car Collector will have a reporter onsite at the auction, covering the sale for an upcoming issue of the magazine.

Be sure to pick up a copy of ACC at Guest Services — if you're at all interested in the collector-car market and where current values are going, you'll be glad you did. And good luck finding those parts on your list — as well as the ones that aren't.

— Jim Pickering,
Editor, American Car Collector

From the Experts: Smart Tips for Investing in the Collector Car Hobby

Have you ever entertained the idea of investing in a collector car? It can be an enjoyable and rewarding experience if you take the time to learn how to choose the right car for you. Best of all, you don't need to be a wealthy entrepreneur to afford a classic car. Many collector classics can be had for the price of today's new cars.

Auctions America's team of experts offers the following tips for those new to the hobby.

Invest in Happiness — Do it for love. Don't buy a car with the thought of making money overnight. Instead, buy something you are going to enjoy driving and owning. But don't fall in love at first sight, either. Some cars have great visual appeal, but that doesn't always translate into value or reliability.

Do Your Homework — Once you decide on your ultimate dream car, do your homework. The Internet is a valuable research tool. Classic-car clubs and live auctions are also great places to network with knowledgeable enthusiasts. Before you buy, have an expert check it over to make sure you are getting exactly what you are paying for, and always buy from a reputable source.

Study the Market — Several publications, including the Hagerty Price Guide, offer current values based on recent sales, and various collector car magazines, such as American Car Collector, publish auction results and offer market insights. In addition, most auction houses publish their sales results online.

Buy the Best You Can Afford — Purchase the best example you can afford within its class; "Best of Category" cars are traditionally more desirable and hold their value the most. In addition, classic cars with famous heritage, such as Auburns, Shelby Mustangs and '50s and '60s Cadillac convertibles, are better long-term investments than less-desirable marques. However, not every famous manufacturer's model is valuable; each has had its share of winners and losers.

Keep it Simple — Consider the following elements as part of your purchase decision:

- Documentation — Knowing a car's complete history is one of the most important factors to consider. In brief, the more documentation, the better!
- Originality — The more original a vehicle is, the higher value it will likely fetch. If a car has been restored, look for examples that have been restored to factory specs. In addition, the lower the original mileage, the more desirable the car.
- Rarity — Low production numbers and survival rates are important factors in the value. Fewer than 1,000 produced is good. Fewer than 100 is even more desirable.

Most of all, don't forget to enjoy your classic vehicle. Participate in a juried show such as a concours event, or enter your car in competitions. You could win awards and recognition that will help secure the car's provenance and value to future owners. Enjoy the ride — there's no other investment that compares to the enjoyment and memories of owning a collector car.

SWAP MEET TIPS

Getting the Most Out of Your Day at the Swap Meet

Simple Steps to Better Parts Hunting

By Jim Pickering of American Car Collector

The Fall Carlisle swap meet is one of the largest events of its kind in the world, with more than 8,000 vendor spaces spread across 150 acres. If you're looking for a new project car — or a specific part for the car or truck you already have, you've definitely come to the right place.

But there are thousands of things to see and items to sort through here at Carlisle, and you've only got a limited amount of time to get through it all. It's easy to get sidetracked. What you need is a good plan.

Here are a few tips to help you make the most of your trip, and to help you find exactly what you're looking for:

1 Be on site early. The best deals always go quickly, so being first to the party can certainly help. And items move fast, so if you come across a car or part you really want or need, buy it before walking away. If you take the time to think about it too long, chances are it'll be gone when you come back. It's also smart to study the map and learn the layout of the swap meet. Try heading to the dead center of the event first, as most people will start hunting near the gate.

2 Stay until the end. This is just as important as being early, as there are always vendors who simply don't want to take some of their stuff home with them. Prices get cheaper as the event winds to a close — some of the best deals are always scored in the final hours.

3 Build a wish list. Have a list of needed items in your pocket to help keep you on track, and know what they look like. Similar-year parts can be hard to tell apart, and you don't want to buy a '64 Impala taillight when you really need a '65. Also, along these same lines, make sure you hear engines run before laying down any cash. Otherwise, you may end up with a very expensive core to rebuild.

4 Cash talks. Be sure to have cash on you — at least enough for the parts you want to buy. Doing so means you can avoid needing to hit up an ATM if you come across the deal of a lifetime — if you take 15 minutes to run to the ATM, you could miss out. Plus, if you're bartering on the value of something, like a double pumper Holley, cash in hand can help seal the deal at a lower price than what the seller is asking.

5 Power in numbers. You've got a lot of ground to cover. Why not bring a friend and split up? And if you do, have cell phones handy so you can alert your buddy when you find the perfect part for his project. Go have breakfast together before you get started, so you can go over each other's wish lists.

6 Remember — everything's a negotiation. Just because the owner of that GTO project is asking $10k doesn't mean he won't take $7k. Don't be afraid to make offers. The seller will either say yes or no.

7 How are you getting stuff to the car? Say you buy a front fender for a C10 pickup. Are you going to carry it out to the parking lot? Remember, stuff starts to feel heavier every 15 minutes or so. Bring a small wagon if you can, or request hauling assistance at Guest Services for a donation to the Chip Miller Charitable Foundation. That way, you won't be stuck carrying the parts you buy.

SEASONAL STAFF

CARLISLE EVENTS 2013 SEASONAL STAFF

Special Thanks to Our Seasonal Staff

Wrapping up our event season is a bittersweet time for both the full-time employees and seasonal staff. For the 25 full-timers, we welcome a more relaxed work pace, but for the seasonal staff, it's the end of their tenure until springtime.

This year, our seasonal team included 230 people and they worked 45,813 hours. Many of them return year after year; in fact, our current team members have worked with us an average of eight years. Many of them have full-time jobs, while others are retired. Not only do they welcome our guests at the gates and assist with parking during events, but they fill the showfield goody bags, place signs, provide office assistance, security and do a variety of other things throughout the show season. Our seasonal team is crucial to our events. We are incredibly grateful to have them and truly appreciate everything they do.

We celebrated a very special anniversary this year for one of our seasonal employees. Pictured between Bill Miller and Lance Miller is Shirley Reitz, who is shown celebrating 40 years of service with Carlisle Events. She has been a dedicated ticket seller during her tenure and plans to continue assisting our guests.

Please join us in thanking our seasonal team for their long hours enduring the sun, humidity and rain. They greet our guests and help our events run like a well-oiled machine.

VENDOR PROFILE: RICHIE DEFABRIZIO

40 Years Strong — Richie DeFabrizio is a True Carlisle Original

By Mike Garland

This weekend marks the 40th weekend of Fall Carlisle excitement. While many things have changed since its launch in 1974, a few things have remained the same. One of those things, if you will, is the DeFabrizio family of Mickleton, NJ, and their involvement with Carlisle Events. The DeFabrizios, you see, are charter vendors — they've been with Carlisle Events since day one and since Fall Carlisle was known as Post War '74.

Today, the vending spaces are occupied by Richie and his two sons, but early on, before Richie's kids were old enough to be part of the business, his dad was part of the fun. This family affair further highlights the generations that have passed through the gates at Carlisle. The DeFabrizio family is based in New Jersey and primarily deals in Volkswagens. In fact, Richie's Garage is the name of the Garden State business that keeps Richie busy from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (closed from noon to 1 p.m. for lunch). At Fall Carlisle, however, the VW guy by trade showcases multiple pieces and parts for sale aimed at Chevy owners. The parts specifically are NOS parts.

"I sell new old stock Chevy parts and have all makes available," said Richie during an early morning conversation last month. "If someone is looking for something made by Chevy or one of the other makes currently under their umbrella, there is a good chance I have it for them."

People who come to Fall Carlisle know of Richie given his long-standing tenure at the event. The familiarity of him as well as his merchandise makes his area a popular destination within the event too. You see, Richie likes to celebrate. Calling him a party animal isn't quite right, but the 66-year-old does enjoy a good get-together and that's exactly what happens on Friday night of Fall Carlisle.

"I host a party on Friday of the event," said Richie. "The people that my family and I have gotten to know over the years, they are just great. This is my way of saying thank you, and it is also a great way to spend time with folks that I only get to see a few times a year." Richie furthered that statement by commenting, "Fall Carlisle is a great place to bond with my family, too. I came with my dad for years and still work with my sons. When my dad died in 1999, the spring show was our first outing after his passing, and not only was it special for my family, but our friends at Carlisle really made us feel loved."

The love at Carlisle is something that really keeps Richie coming back, in fact, he's very proud that he's been a vendor at Carlisle since day one. "I'm one of the first 50 vendors this place ever had," added Richie. "I've been with Carlisle Events through it all, the rain, the snow, the mud. I wouldn't want to be anywhere else and I've never looked back."

His experiences have been great too. Not only does he display his products in a neat and organized manner that he says really helps sales, he tries to get out and about to shop for products that he can merge into his wide array of items.

"I like to see what other people have and sometimes I come across something that can help me out. I deal only in original parts so they have to be in good condition and something I know my customers will want," said Richie.

Though making money is always nice, Richie said he loves Carlisle for the camaraderie and the atmosphere.

"My friends at Carlisle are from all over the world and I love coming here to work, see them and meet new people. I would not have it any other way."

So if you are looking for new old Chevy parts, Richie is one of the people to see. He'll say he has the best selection around. See it for yourself by visiting him any day throughout the show by stopping by spaces B 71-74. You never know, you just might make a friend for life!

2013 HIGHLIGHTS

2013 CORVETTES AT CARLISLE

2013: Carlisle Events Automotive Season In Review

Auto Mania

Our event season started in January at an indoor event in Allentown, PA. Auto Mania has more than two decades worth of history to its name. 2013, however, marked the first time the event was powered by Carlisle Events. For three days, enthusiasts came to the Allentown Fairgrounds for Pennsylvania's largest indoor automotive swap meet and car corral. Patrons were not only able to shop a few hundred vendors, they were also able to take their pick from great food vendors at the neighboring farmer's market.

Winter AutoFest

In February, we traveled to Zephyrhills, FL, for the 39th annual Winter AutoFest. More than 2,000 vending and car corral spaces were filled with memorabilia, merchandise, parts and cars for sale. The two-day auto auction saw a 60% sell-through rate, plus more than $2 million in total sales. In addition, visitors could take rides on a monster truck, see police demonstrations and participate in a cruise-in.

Spring Carlisle

Starting on setup day Wednesday, Spring Carlisle was bustling with automotive excitement. Weekend highlights included the return of the Hot Rodders of Tomorrow (HROT) high school engine build scholarship competition, two-day auction presented by Auctions America, a huge swap meet and car corral, Manufacturers Midway and ARMO Hot Products Showcase. The high-selling auction car was a 1959 Corvette Big-Brake Roadster, moving for $148,500. Winning the HROT competition for the third year at Carlisle was the team from the Burton Center for Arts and Technology from Salem, VA.

Carlisle Performance & Style

Carlisle Performance & Style was the event to see the hottest trends in the sport compact, tuner, and modern muscle communities this year. More than 1,500 cars were on the showfield and in themed displays. Some of the best cars from up and down the east coast were on display in the buildings ranging from domestics and Asian imports, to an even larger focus on European vehicles. An addition this year was a display of vehicles maintained and shown exclusively by females. There was a great club atmosphere, drive-through show car judging, autocross, drifting exhibitions, low-car limbo, a great burnout competition, beauty pageant and lots of vendors. This show has some serious momentum going into 2014.

Carlisle Import & Kit Nationals

Since 1986, the Carlisle Import & Kit Nationals has displayed the best import and kit cars in the mid-Atlantic region and beyond. In recent years, a simple event has transformed into an automotive festival with the addition of live music and the Passport challenge, awarding prizes to participants. All the club tents and a full schedule of seminars kept the event a hub of activity. Guests such as Peter Brock, legendary automotive designer, talked with guests about his experiences within the hobby and his Datsun 510. On Saturday, two machines, manufactured 100 years apart, made parade laps around the autocross track. Kirk Gibson piloted his 1897 De Dion Bouton Trike, and on the other end of the spectrum was a 1998 Renault Sport-Spider owned by Greg Coston.

Carlisle Ford Nationals

The Carlisle Ford Nationals welcomed a trio of special guests — Steve Saleen, Vaughn Gittin Jr. and Milo Coleman. There were new-car test drives, autocross ride-alongs, more than 2,600 show cars, seminars, about 100 cars in special displays and at least 30 clubs in attendance. Ford Motor Company had an even larger presence at this year's show with an expanded Ford Racing Garage with installations happening on more than just Mustangs. to show the vehicle's capabilities, and an autocross demonstration area on the track, powered by MRT and Ford Racing, were real treats in Ford's expanded presence. More than 300 show vehicles paraded to downtown Carlisle for a street party Saturday evening. An X-302-Crate Engine was awarded and registrations were taken for the 2013 Ford F-150 Raptor 2-year lease that was given away just last month.

Carlisle GM Nationals

During the Carlisle GM Nationals, special guest NASCAR driver Bobby Allison visited the event and took time to sign autographs for all of his fans. Seminars by Dennis Kirban and Paul Koerner offered historical and technical perspectives on some of your favorite GM cars. Andrew Filippone Jr. provided a special screening of his film "Black Air: The Buick Grand National Documentary" at the Carlisle Theatre. Special displays this year featured a special nod towards Buick performance, and included the High-Performance Showroom as well as the Turbo Buick Celebration. Building T hosted the general invitational, which was filled with a great variety of cars from every GM branch. The showfield was home to any and every GM automobile you could imagine. Whether new or old, the 2013 GM Nationals featured a great selection of Detroit's best for everyone to enjoy.

Carlisle Chrysler Nationals

For the 23rd year, Mopars were on display at the Carlisle Chrysler Nationals. History was embraced, legends were showcased and guests had fun too, walking the showfield, browsing the swap meet and car corral, and best of all, interacting with like-minded enthusiasts. Chrysler weekend hosted a Max Wedge Reunion, an all-female-owned Mopar feature, a wide array of seminars, special displays and more. Guests came to Carlisle too, as 30 years of the movie "Christine" were celebrated with a screening, plus a movie car and stars from the movie. The "Dukes of Hazzard" theme also continued with Sonny Shroyer (Enos) onsite. Saturday showcased some of the best historical representatives of the brand with the Mopar Collectors Guide Hall of Fame dinner. The weekend wrapped with an awards parade on Sunday. In total, over 2,000 show cars were on display.

CARLISLE BIKE FEST • July

Carlisle Bike Fest

The 12th edition of the Carlisle Bike Fest was its sunset run as Carlisle Events has chosen not to continue the event. The event offered Monster Energy Freestyle Motorcross exhibitions, Disc-Connected K9 Frisbee dog shows, judged bike shows, bands and StarBoyz sport bike stunt shows. We sincerely appreciate the support of our vendors and manufactures such as Yamaha, Star, Kawasaki and Suzuki Motorcycles for their continued presence at this event with demo rides. We also extend a special thanks to our regional partners, Koups Cycle Shop of Harrisburg, PA and Appalachian Harley-Davidson of Mechanicsburg, PA, who helped us start, continue and deliver this event for more than a decade. We hope you enjoyed the ride.

Carlisle Truck Nationals

A great time is always the norm during the Carlisle Truck Nationals. From mini trucks to big rigs and classics to customs, there was something to appeal to everyone. Popular competitions such as the low-truck limbo, burnouts, highest lifted truck, frame dragging and Ms. Carlisle Pageant entertained while monster trucks and Megasaurus wowed the crowds. Between the full showfield, hundreds of vendors, live music, kids activities and women's oasis, there was something for everyone to enjoy.

Bloomsburg Nationals

The Bloomsburg Nationals was an enjoyable event with live music, stunt shows and all types of cars. It started Thursday with a kick-off party at Quaker Steak & Lube in Bloomsburg, PA then moved full-speed ahead Friday morning at the Bloomsburg Fairgrounds. First day highlights included the downtown Bloomsburg parade and Ms. Bloomsburg contest and ended with live music from locals Ricky and Harv. On Saturday, it was all about the cars, swap meet, car corral and the evening stunt show action. There were competitions too, including burnouts, muffler rap and slow drags. In addition, "The Lube" hosted a wing eating competition. Saturday night, Tonny Petersen's Hell Drivers wowed the audience, while Flamin' Dick and the Hot Rods closed the day. Sunday saw an awards parade and a $1,000 giveaway. The event ended with live music from Autumn's Golden Oldies.

Corvettes at Carlisle

2013 was a big year for Corvettes at Carlisle with the 60th anniversary of the 1953, the 50th anniversary of the one-year-only Split-Window style and the introduction of the brand-new C7. There were more than 63 1963s on display, at least 20 of the new 2014 Stingrays and thousands of Corvettes on the fairgrounds. The GM Engineering Team was in attendance to talk about the new C7, several companies installed new parts during the event and 400 Corvettes drove in the parade to Downtown Carlisle. The winner of the burnout contest was thrilled to have finally crossed an item off his bucket list in his 35th Anniversary model. Two passes to the Bondurant School of High Performance Driving were given away on Sunday, a number of informative seminars were offered through the weekend and people could even have their Corvettes diagnosed by GM expert, Paul Koerner. The event was attended by an international audience and was a great experience for all.

Carlisle Sports & Outdoor Nationals

The Carlisle Sports & Outdoor Nationals helped spotlight the Carlisle Fairgrounds in a new light. Enthusiasts came for the activities, vendors and displays that make the outdoor hobby one of the most popular worldwide. Hot spots included the Lumberjack Show of Champions, archery competitions, gun show, wildlife show, camper, boat, ATV and tractor displays and the wide array of vendors. In addition, turkey, owl and waterfowl calling competitions and seminars took place and multiple organizations raised money for charity. Event supporters included Cabela's, the National Wild Turkey Federation, PA Outdoor Writers Association, Cumberland Valley Chapter of Trout Unlimited, PA Muzzleloaders, Capital City Bassmasters, Eagle Arms Productions, the NRA and more. The event concluded with the giveaway of a two-year lease for a 2013 Ford Raptor plus the PA Outdoor Writers Youth Benefit Auction.

Bob Wheeler knew just where to go the day he rolled into Carlisle on a bus, carrying a suitcase and a reel-to-reel tape recorder.

The year was 1967, and Carlisle was his latest stop in a 12,000-mile hitchhiking odyssey to interview 200 contemporaries of a man once called "the greatest athlete in the world."

"Anyone researching Jim Thorpe would have heard about Wardecker's," said Wheeler, who wrote the definitive biography on the sports legend.

A master's student working on his thesis at the time, Wheeler entered the menswear store at 32 N. Hanover St., and was greeted soon after by James Wardecker.

"He was so helpful, so courteous and willing to help," Wheeler said of that moment 46 years ago. "He sized up what I was trying to do and immediately picked up the telephone."

James asked his son Fred to take the next few days off so he could show Wheeler around to local residents who had firsthand knowledge of Thorpe and coach Pop Warner from back in the heyday of the Carlisle Indian School football team. Time was precious, and Wheeler needed transportation.

"For two days, Fred was my guide and mentor," Wheeler said. "I will always be grateful to him. He is a national treasure living in Carlisle."

For decades, this menswear store and custom tailor shop has been an important resource for scholars and curiosity-seekers looking for insight into Thorpe and the Carlisle Indian School.

Among the items on display are photographs of the athlete, along with movie posters from "Jim Thorpe: All-American," which had its world premiere in Carlisle. There are also shoes worn by the football players, a ledger recording student clothing purchases and an old school pennant ESPN once borrowed for use in a Jim Thorpe documentary.

Situated on the walls and atop a layer of shelves that ring the sales area is a collection of artifacts that form a patchwork of local history. The common thread running through the whole store is the legacy of the father and son.

The history of the store and its ties to the Indian School goes back to Mose Blumenthal, who had a contract to sell clothing to its students in exchange for vouchers, said Tom Benjey, a local historian. "Mose would log it in the book, and the school would pay for it."

If the clothing purchase exceeded the dollar value of the voucher, the student would pay the difference, Benjey said. Over the years, Blumenthal befriended many of the students and staff, including Jim Thorpe and Pop Warner. The school closed in 1917.

About 25 years later, James Wardecker became a sales clerk at Blumenthals early in World War II. He remained an employee until about 1964, when he bought out the business. It was about a year later that Fred started to work for his father.

Over time, father and son collected the treasure trove of memories and memorabilia that have made the family business such a valuable resource. When James died in February 1998, Fred took over and became the caretaker of both the artifacts and stories surrounding Thorpe and the Indian School.

"I get calls every day from people wanting to know what was here and what was there," Wardecker said. "People come in ... people call me ... it has been that way for so long, I don't think about it. If I can accommodate them, I do. I've been here forever. I know a lot of people."

Authors have visited the store and included some of the stories in their books. For example, Coach Warner once devised a play in which the football was snapped to the quarterback, who then hid the pigskin in a pocket sewn by Blumenthal into the back of the center's uniform. While the opposing team went after the quarterback, the center charged down the field and made the touchdown, Wardecker said. That play was later outlawed.

In another story, the legendary coach once visited Carlisle and explained to local businessmen how Thorpe had the uncanny ability to drop kick a football through the goal posts from the 50-yard line, Wardecker said.

Over the years, James and Fred Wardecker have purchased hundreds of antiques from auctions, yard sales and private individuals. Other items were just given to them for safekeeping or exchanged in trade for merchandise. Most items in the shop collection have a connection to Carlisle and its residents. It was the practice of James Wardecker never to take advantage of someone's generosity.

One day, a man came into the store and offered James Wardecker a genuine team sweater worn by Jim Thorpe.

"My dad refused," Fred said. "He just would not take it. It was just too valuable."

Sure enough, a Jim Thorpe team sweater sold at an auction for $390,000 two to three years ago.

"That should have been my retirement," Fred joked.

Decades after Wheeler completed his biography on Jim Thorpe, he visited Fred Wardecker at the store and purchased a suit from his old mentor. For much of his work as a tailor, Wardecker uses a 1938 Singer sewing machine handed down from his grandmother.

"I've spent a lifetime researching the life of Jim Thorpe," Wheeler said. "Fred Wardecker is right at the top of all the people who have helped me on my journey to tell the true story."

In Loving Memory of Eleanor Lilith Ayers

August 2, 2011 - April 25, 2012

By Gerry Ayers Jr.

The automotive hobby lost what might have been the world's most avid female enthusiast on opening day of Spring Carlisle, 2012.

My brother Geoffrey and I enjoy cars. Between us, we have 26 collector/performance cars — everything from Mustang SVOs and Saleens to Shelby Dodges and Porsche 911s and 944s. Making the trek to at least six Carlisle events per year is a given thing, and it's a true highlight to break the monotony of our hectic work schedules.

Not having any children of my own, it was a joy when my brother and his wife, Jennifer, had their second child, Eleanor. His son Malcolm, age 7, has already been introduced to the world of Carlisle Events. He likes bartering with the vendors for toys and they always give him a break! As everyone knows, we need to "replenish" this great hobby with new and energetic members. He's one of them.

Thus, I figured Ellie would follow in our footsteps. First, by being pushed in her stroller through the rows of vendors, getting used to all the "stops and starts" as we moved from booth to booth — maybe picking up her Matchbox or Hot Wheels miniature car if it fell out of her hand over a bump. Then, by taking her for ice cream at the packed food court.

By age 8 or 9 I hoped she'd be learning the different types of automobiles; knowing what makes a Chrysler Hemi, a Ford Boss, a Ferrari or Lotus a special thing to behold in this world. I'd be scouring Carlisle for coloring books and pedal cars for her just as much as the dealer albums, models and posters that I collect.

At age 13, "Lillie" (as her friends would refer to her), would probably be begging to go to any upcoming Carlisle event. Why? Because she'd want to help her father Geoff and uncle Gerry to look for parts and memorabilia they needed, and to keep her brother in line. She would have volunteered to pull our wagon when we got tired. Joints, tendons and muscles getting on in years, you know. By "sweet 16" I'm convinced Miss Ayers would have found her first car at the Carlisle car corral or auction. An '84 Ford Mustang GT Turbo convertible. Rare car, stick shift, fun to drive, and socially responsible as far as miles per gallon go. By age 23, perhaps she'd be an employee of Carlisle Events, armed with a degree in marketing, it would be put to use in planning new events and special features.

Enough conjecture. Eleanor, although born healthy, contracted a viral infection, and soon after it was discovered she also had a rare heart condition. As I was heading out the door for the two-hour drive to the 2012 Carlisle Spring show, the phone rang and Jennifer broke the terrible news that Eleanor had passed away earlier that night at Hershey Medical Center due to complications from her heart condition. Putting the phone down, I had to decide whether to hit the road or to mope at home. It didn't take me long to decide.

Fighting back tears during the show, many questions popped into my mind. But as many of you know, there are no "right or wrong" answers when it comes to dealing with tragedy. And, as you also know, Carlisle Events isn't just about cars, trucks and motorcycles — it's about really great people.

Many vendors that I've dealt with over the years took the time to offer condolences and share uplifting words. Ed Person, Paul Politis, Bill Landis and Craig Holler all come to mind, amongst others. And then, I ran into Lance Miller.

Decades ago I met his father, Chip Miller. I will never forget that conversation. He spoke to me like I was part of his family! He took an interest in my collection and what made it special for me. Today, I'm talking to his son, while Lance's young daughter, Ella, was in tow. "If there's anything I can do, please let me know," said a visibly upset Lance, after telling him of my brother's misfortune, of Eleanor's peril. I looked into his daughter's eyes, knowing how lucky she was to have good health.

Unfortunately, our Ellie will never walk the rows of Carlisle as her brother has, and look for unique stuff as we do, but I'm sure she's in very good company now — the same place as Chip Miller, Carroll Shelby, Zora Duntov and Larry Shinoda. They're all looking down on the fairgrounds, smiling at us and, no doubt, debating, with those other gearheads, on why that '84 Mustang GT Turbo is a sweeter choice for her first car than Chip's recommendation of a 1990 turquoise Indy festival Corvette or Duntov's choice of an '84 Z51 coupe (did she tell him she wanted to autocross or what?). Mr. Shelby and Mr. Shinoda both felt that a Ford "was in her future."

I'm convinced I would have felt much worse if I didn't go to Carlisle that fateful day. Routines are vital in returning to normalcy. And on behalf of my brother and myself, we extend a "thank you" to all who donated to the Ronald McDonald House in Hershey, PA, in Eleanor's name and for keeping us in your prayers. We truly appreciate the Carlisle automotive community!

American Car Collector

It's no secret that American car values have been on the move over the past few years, both up and down. It pays for buyers, sellers and owners to know exactly what's going on in the marketplace at any given time, and that information is exactly what American Car Collector magazine does best. Each issue of ACC contains more than 100 market reports on individual cars that have appeared at auction, with published sold prices highlighted by on-site evaluations that cover condition, originality and options. Not only do we tell you what a car sold for, we help you understand why. Every issue also includes in-depth profiles on cars from GM, Ford and Mopar, joined by Hot Rod, Race Car, Corvette and Truck. Whether you have one car or 20, ACC has the information that'll keep you on top of what's happening in the American collector-car world. Subscribe at americancarcollector.com.

Heacock Classic Insurance

Have you ever wondered what collector car insurance is all about? It's simple: "passion." Heacock Classic Insurance knows that collector cars receive better care and are driven less than the family vehicle, therefore, classic car insurance rates are lowered. Our goal is to offer a custom, low-cost program designed to fit your needs. Collector car insurance from Heacock Classic provides "Agreed Value" coverage, full coverage during restoration, coverage for modifications, and your right to choose your own repair shop if your car is damaged. You also get to choose zero deductible and automatically get $50,000 coverage for 30 days when you purchase a new classic car. After you request a quote a status report is usually ready within 24 hours. Then, we will contact you to review it and hopefully activate your new insurance policy. It's simple, easy and the best way to properly protect your investment. Call us today at 800-678-5183 or online at www.HeacockClassic.com

Meguiar's

RockAuto.com

RockAuto ships thousands of auto parts from over 200 manufacturers to customers on every continent except Antarctica – including APO/FPO addresses. The RockAuto catalog is updated daily with mechanical parts like brake pads and shock absorbers, body parts like bumpers and mirrors, interior trim like door handles and carpets, and major assemblies like steering gears, CV axles, engine long blocks, and complete transmissions. There are no mechanics on staff (RockAuto is a store, not a repair shop) but service manuals are available to help customers learn how to perform a repair. The RockAuto catalog is expanding constantly. Someday, it may be possible to build an entire car using parts from RockAuto!
